

SCHUTZ, '94, OUTLINES CENTENNIAL PLANS

Elaborate Program Being
Arranged for 1923
Commencement.

SATURDAY, JUNE 9,
TO BE ALUMNI DAY

"Peter's Cup" Presented to Delta Phi at College Body Meeting.

The April meeting of the College Body, held Monday, April 16, was addressed by Walter S. Schutz, '94, representing the committee in charge of arrangements for the Centennial celebration in June. Before announcing the program of events Mr. Schutz urged the undergraduates to impress upon all alumni the importance of attending Commencement this year. He stated that a list of those alumni who have announced their intention of attending will be published in two weeks and said that the committee is very anxious to have as many names as possible by that date.

After undergoing many changes the program is now crystallized so far as the official portion is concerned. Various suggestions to the Senior class as to the time for Class Day exercises have been made, but the only time left open by the committee is either late Monday afternoon or during the intermission at the Promenade. As either of these times would bring Class Day after the class has officially joined the ranks of the alumni, Seniors feel that they are not acceptable. Saturday afternoon, the usual time set aside for Class Day, is filled with baseball and the "Midway." It may become necessary for the Centennial Class to hold its exercises during some of the official College attractions for alumni.

The program, as outlined by Mr. Schutz, opens Friday, June 8, with registration of alumni. From 5 to 7 the President's reception will be held at the President's residence at 115 Vernon Street. Old custom was to have this after Commencement so that the President could receive the Seniors as alumni, but this has recently been changed to Saturday, following the Class Day exercises. This year it is to be the opening event. In the evening fraternity reunions will be held as usual. Nothing follows these so that conviviality and brotherhood may have full sway.

Saturday, Alumni Day.

Saturday morning, June 9, both the alumni and undergraduates will have sports to engage in and enjoy. It is expected that some of the interfraternity baseball games will be played and several teams will be formed from the alumni. The regular Alumni Luncheon will be held at 1 o'clock in the gymnasium, as usual. During the morning the 'varsity baseball team will travel to Amherst and play the Commencement Day game at Massachusetts Agricultural College. In the afternoon at 2.30 the team will meet Amherst College on Trinity Field, thus completing the most peculiar double-header in Trinity baseball history. After the game, from 5 to 7, the various units on the campus will entertain the alumni and guests on the football field with "The Trinity Centennial Midway." Each unit is planning a side show, and each one is determined to outdo all rivals in wit and interest. The cardinal rule

"PASSING SHOW". NOW REHEARSING

Consists of Nine Vaudeville Acts to be Given by Undergraduates.

SLATTERY AND NEWELL COMPOSE SPECIAL SONGS

Acrobatic Acts, Musical Acts,
Comedy Skits to Entertain
Sub-Freshmen.

Rehearsals for the "Trinity Passing Show of 1923", which is to be given in Alumni Hall next Saturday night as a grand climax to the annual Sub-Freshman Week-End activities, have been held during the past week and everything points to a most successful entertainment.

Most of the guests are expected to arrive Friday afternoon, and at that time they will register at the College Union in Seabury Hall. Friday evening there will be an informal Glee Club concert in the Public Speaking room, followed by entertainment at the various fraternity houses.

Saturday morning the guests will be allowed to visit the various classes. Mr. J. E. Rhodes, instructor in Casualty Insurance, will give a special lecture on "Insurance" in the Public Speaking room during the first hour. Several other professors also plan to give lectures which will be of special interest to sub-freshmen at this time.

Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Trinity will meet Worcester Tech. in the second baseball game of the season.

Saturday night the "Trinity Passing Show of 1923" will be given in Alumni Hall by Trinity undergraduates. The show will consist of a series of vaudeville acts. The opening act will be the Trinity Quartet, composed of Bowdidge, '23, Brill, '23, Cullum, '23, and Norman, '23. The second act will be an acrobatic novelty by Winslow, '25, and Traver, '26. Malcolm-Smith, '25, and Sheehan, '26, acknowledged artists, will then be featured in a dancing specialty. The fourth act will be a solo by Bowdidge, '23. This will be followed by a comic negro dialogue to be given by Wood, '25, and Humphrey, '25. The climax of the show will be the sixth act—Slattery and Newell in their own songs. Slattery, who is chairman of the Sub-Freshman Week-End Committee, and Newell, '23, have composed songs especially for this occasion. The titles of some of these songs are "Olga from Volga", "Eleanor", and "Try and Get It." As a kind of anticlimax Deckelman, '24, will provide an original pianologue. The eighth act is to be a comedy skit on the Faculty. Dr. Ogilby will be represented by O'Connor, '24; Professor

CLARK WINS OPENING BASEBALL GAME 4---3

Game Cut to Seven Innings
Because of Late Arrival of the Visitors.

TEAM HITS WELL.

Only One Error Charged to Each Side. Ten Stolen Bases Recorded.

On a day when fur coats and heavy gloves were in order for spectators, Clark University won the opening baseball game of the season, an abbreviated seven-inning affair, by a four to three count. The visitors were so late in reaching Hartford that seven innings was agreed upon as the length of the game, and the last two were played in semi-darkness.

The green team which Coach Stone presented to the college body gave a good account of itself. There were one or two mental lapses, and one error of commission, but the team as a whole played hard, snappy, clean baseball, and the hitting was enough to delight any coach's heart. Nine hits rattled off Trinity bats, two of them coming in the last inning when only a night hawk or an owl could see the ball. The team was blanked in the hit column in two innings. In the other five frames solid hits went screaming to the outfield. In only the second, however, were enough connected to produce runs. Pryor, who played well behind the bat, and Frank Jones, led the attack with two hits apiece. Norman and Newsholme were the only two who went hitless. The captain leaned on the ball hard, but all his drives went into the hands of fielders. Newsholme is credited with only one time at bat, having walked once and being hit by a pitched ball once.

Tuck and Newman Pitch.

Tuck pitched well, allowing seven hits all of which were well scattered. However, he was responsible for the run which tied the score for Clark, when, with men on third and second and two out he threw to third to catch Fall who had run off the bag, giving him a delayed steal of home. Neuman pitched the last inning and was un-seeable. He struck out the side with a fast ball that was practically invisible in the darkness.

All told, the team has speed, fight, hitting ability, and good pitching, and should give Trinity a winning baseball team for the first time in several years. All of the hits were solid line smashes to the outer gardens. Chief of them was a triple to center by Ortgies, which started the inning in which the home folks scored their three runs. Tuck followed in this frame with another hit almost as long but was held to a double.

For Clark Pucillo was almost the whole show. His triple in the third scored two runs, and after Anderson retired under fire at the close of the second inning he pitched very acceptable ball. Although he was constantly threatened he managed to prevent scoring.

For a season-opener the fielding was remarkably clean. Only one error was charged to each side, neither of which figured in the scoring. Both teams ran rather wild on the

FEW VETERANS ON TRACK SQUAD

Team Preparing for First Meet,
Which is Only a Week Off.

JAVELIN INTRODUCED.

Johnson, Herrick, Montgomery, and Healey Showing up Well in Dashes.

With the first meet of the season coming on in a week, Coach Drew's track squad is working hard to get in shape. This sport, like baseball this year, will be carried on by a practically green team. Only seven men from last year's squad are available for duty, Captain Allen, M. B. Johnson, Jepson, Bradley, O'Connor, Brill, and Sinnott. The star of the team will undoubtedly be Johnson whose ankle, injured in the Amherst football game, has strengthened over the winter so that he can be counted on for three firsts in dual meets. Captain Allen is clearing the hurdles in good shape and should be able to take care of both events, if any man can be developed to aid him with seconds and thirds.

Jepson is working out on his old events, the high jump, broad jump, and is also branching out into the shot put and javelin throw. Bradley is again pole vaulting, and O'Connor, Sinnott, and Brill are heaving the weights. The remainder of the squad is problematical. Coach Drew is working with a good sized bunch of green material, but the shortness of the season precludes any possibility of sensational work from these men. An encouraging sign for Trinity track sport lies in the fact that all of these new men will be available next year.

In the dashes, in addition to Johnson, are Herrick, Montgomery, Hannan, Parisi, and Healey. Of these men, only Healey has any known record. At Hartford High School he made a good reputation, but was prevented from competition last spring by rheumatism. He appears to have recovered from this and is expected to show up well in the 220. The hurdles are Captain Allen's alone unless C. B. Johnson develops rapidly.

Johnson and Healey will probably take care of the quarter-mile event in good shape. Both have known ability and the only question is that of Healey's condition. The half mile will have only green contestants. In fact all the distance events, which have been weak for several years, will have new men entered. Birch and McBurney, neither of whom has done track work previously, will enter the half mile. Fleming and R. M. Clark are training hard for the mile, while the longest grind, the two mile, will see Clark and Parke competing.

A great deal of interest has been manifested in the squad in the javelin throw, a new event on the Trinity track calendar. Thus far Jepson and Montgomery have been showing encouraging form. The former has heaves of a hundred and thirty-five feet to his credit and Montgomery is only a few feet behind. Both are showing constant improvement and by next week should be at the hundred and forty mark. Brill is also working at this event but to date has shown nothing definite.

IT MIGHT NOT WIN.

We are in receipt of one of those breezy, ready-written, news articles with which almost every mail is cumbered. This one is interesting for two reasons: first, it announces a prize contest; the second, the head is already written. The heading and first paragraph follow: "QUIT WASTING BREATH ON YOUR ROOMMATE. Put Those Brilliant Ideas On Paper And Win The Mint. One Thousand Dollars in cash for the very ideas you have been wasting on your roommates and fraternity brothers! All you have to do is to write them down on paper before May 31. For the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association has just announced a national student essay contest on 'Fighting Booze the World Around,'" or, as their announcement classically puts it, "The World Movement Against Alcoholism." And you know a lot about that subject. Didn't you tell one of your friends the other day just how you would settle the booze problem?"

Can this be a manifestation of some occult power possessed by the writer? Else how could he know that we have been wasting our breath trying to make our roommate stop his nightly orgies? Also how could he know that we were discussing the possibility of a European tour next summer, just the other day?

The letter so inspired us that we are going to put some of our brilliant thoughts on paper—but we fear that they could not be considered as prize winning essays by the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association. The old slogan of the Anti-Saloon League, "A Saloon-less Nation in 1920", has been realized. Now the saloon has been metamorphosed into limousines and enlarged pockets. Now that the Anti-Saloon League is being forced into the open in New York State the reason for its creation, "hard liquor" is being forced into the dark. But is it any the less present? Not noticeably. We see the spectacle of Enforcement Agents arrested for bootlegging, policemen posted outside restaurants while two drunken couples engage unhindered in fist fights within, and bulging pockets everywhere. At a neighboring college which has turned over enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment to the students a recent dance was the occasion for most of the representative men of the college either getting "lit" or winking at others in such a condition. Girls break the law of the country by carrying flasks to dances. Newspaper reports of schoolboys lying off the Jersey coast are signals to every owner of a boat to weigh anchor the first star-lit night and seek the three-mile limit. At a recent high school dance several students were noticeably "under the influence." Perhaps these illustrations are not considered weighty enough.

Then we read of an address by the President of Columbia University in which he decried the government policy of spending millions annually in attempting the hopeless task of enforcing one law, when no attempt is made to enforce many other statutes. When the question is considered serious enough for a man of such caliber to speak upon it, surely some thought should be given to it by college men.

At the last election some senators and congressmen were elected on outright "wet" platforms. Does not the whole question boil down to this? There are two parties. The one which succeeded in pushing through this law when some million voters were absent from the country may be described by a phrase which sums up decadent puritanism, "We do not see how you can dare to do the things we do not care to do." The other side is constantly seeking new ways and means of doing what it cares to do. The worst feature of it is that spasmodic raids and enforcement force these people who seem to care to drink to imbibe poisonous concoctions poured into old bottles. But the determination of this same class is not one whit abated by this fact. Those who are wise test the content of unknown liquor, the rest take chances, but all continue to break the law with a smile, and will continue to do so as long as human instincts are passed on to posterity.

Nowhere, as much as in the colleges, (unless it be in high schools) is there evidence of the growing tendency among youth to drink. There are numberless instances of men who never drank during prohibition, and who never miss an opportunity to do so now. We do not pretend to advance any reason for this. We are simply stating facts and some of our "brilliant ideas." Is it not about time for decadent puritanism to be toppled from the throne?

If there is any undergraduate here who wishes to enter the contest, announcement of which started all this froth, he can get information from THE TRIPOD Board. Please come soon so we can put the letter in the waste basket.

SCHUTZ OUTLINES PLANS.

of danger, "Women and children first", will hold at this circus, only in this case women and children will not only be admitted first but free. All luckless males will be compelled to deposit ten cents with the raucous voiced "barker", each time they enter a tent. The committee plans to have plain clothes men on hand to see that no masquerading in feminine apparel is successful. In the evening a Centennial dinner for Alumni, Faculty and Undergraduates will be served at the Hartford Club, taking the place of the "1823 Reunion" and the various class reunion dinners.

War Memorial.

The College Body voted to turn over to the committee a fund which was raised to provide a War Memorial, for the purchase of a stand of colors. These will consist of a National Color, to which will be attached Trinity's Honor Roll for the four wars in which America has been engaged in the last century, and a State Color. They will be dedicated at the Open Air Service, to be held on the campus Sunday morning. The speaker for this service has not been announced. An invitation has been extended to the Governor's Foot Guard, the Putnam Phalanx, the Grand Army of the Republic, and the Spanish, and World War Veterans to participate. In the afternoon a service will be held in Alumni Hall in which Dr. John J. McCook, '63, will receive an expression of the love which all Trinity men have for him. Following this service a College Sing will be held on the campus, the assembly being led by a large undergraduate chorus. In the evening the Baccalaureate Sermon will be preached in Christ Church Cathedral. The Senior Class is expected to announce very soon the name of the speaker selected for this service.

Monday, Centennial Commencement Day.

Monday morning the Ninety-seventh Commencement exercises will be held at 10.30 on the Campus. This is a departure from custom, due to the exceptionally large number of guests expected. Following the Commencement exercises a buffet luncheon will be served in the gymnasium. Then the parade will form and march down Vernon Street to Washington Street and up Washington Street to the East Portico of the State Capitol, where Dr. Flavel S. Luther, '70, and President from 1901 to 1919, will unveil a tablet in commemoration of the original site of the College. Here the official ceremonies will end. In the evening the Senior Promenade will be held in Alumni Hall, beginning at 9.30.

After Mr. Schutz finished speaking the president of the College Body called on Slattery, chairman of the Sub-Freshman Week-End committee, for a report. Slattery stated that plans were progressing well and reminded the College Body that the committee could not look out for the comfort and entertainment of all the guests of the college. The entire undergraduate body must aid in every way possible.

Peter Ogilby, aged two, assisted by his father, presented his cup to Case, captain of the Delta Phi basketball team, which won in the Intramural Basketball League this winter. Sigma Nu won the cup last year, but this year was defeated in the finals by Delta Phi. The cup will remain with the Delta Phi Fraternity until next year.

The meeting was then turned over to Mr. Moshe Paranov, chorus instructor, who drilled the College Body in songs for Commencement.

GERMANY MUST SATISFY FRANCE

English Economist Lectures on European Financial Situation.

POLITICS, NOT POVERTY, KEEP GERMANS DEFIANT

Says English Situation is More Critical Than is Commonly Supposed.

In a lecture on "Financial Conditions in Europe" recently given before the Political Science Club, Henry Higgs, distinguished English Economist and former inspector-general of finance in Egypt, made the statement that in his opinion "financial conditions in Europe will not be bettered until Germany has met her obligations to placate France."

"The French are firmly convinced", Mr. Higgs told his audience, "that the Germans have no intentions of meeting their obligations. The time has come when France must have francs and not words", stated the lecturer. The French have 300,000 homes to build for shelter. They cannot exist without roofs over their heads, so they have been forced to make domestic loans. This process must stop because the government cannot pay the interest on the loans. The English, too, are anxious that Germany pay her indemnities. "The British workman is enraged over the fact that he must pay fourteen times as much for a pint of beer as the German workman."

Mr. Higgs described Ebert, the president of the German Republic, as a circus rider straddling two horses. On the right he has the old monarchist and militarist party, whom he fears to offend by taxation, on the left he has the laboring party, whom he is equally timid about offending. It is Mr. Higgs' opinion that the two parties are drawing together to make accommodative arrangements for France. The reason why Germany has not been willing to meet her obligations, he believes, are not financial, but political.

The English Situation.

In speaking of conditions in England, the lecturer stated that although to the average man financial reconstruction in England seems well under way, the student of finance realizes that she is fundamentally in dire straits. One-seventeenth of the population are out of work. Sixty per cent. of the people are receiving public assistance.

Many people think that English finances are in good condition since there was rather a large surplus at the end of last year, he said. But such a gain was made at a very great price. Since the armistice, the taxes paid by the people have been higher than ever, principally because it has become an obsession of the British government, in the opinion of Mr. Higgs, to pay for the war in a short time.

Europe's financial difficulties, Mr. Higgs attributed to two causes: first, the depletion of the currency and the debasement of money which has been disastrous to the thrift and economy of the people; and second, that the intense nationalistic feeling of the new nations created by the war has prompted them to set up tariff barriers to protect their industries and to weaken their neighbors.

"The tap root of most of the financial troubles of Europe today is the voluntary debasement of currency on the part of Russia and Germany," Mr. Higgs said.

In Russia the debasement of money has gone on along systematic lines deliberately laid down by the political leaders of the country. It has been the aim of those in power to break the power of the capitalists and the capitalist system, according to the speaker, and if money value shrinks to a negligible value, then the people with a large amount of money will be no better off than those without any. Not long ago he said that the government gave the workers in the Bureau of Engraving permission to print money for themselves for an hour a day.

Debasement of the currency in the European countries has caused the discouragement of commerce and thrift. It has even made commerce impossible in many instances, said the speaker, for even while goods are in transit their money value changes greatly.

In addition, public finance becomes impossible. A budget once made, according to Mr. Higgs, requires that there can be no radical change in the value of the standard of money if a balance is expected. The temptation has been great to print large amounts of paper money to tide over a gap in the collection of revenue. But this only causes a falling away in the value of the standard, and a corresponding rise in prices. Budget balancing shortly becomes impossible under these conditions.

French Need 300,000 Homes.

The French started ever so far behind scratch, said the speaker, and have had to spend very large amounts of money to even reach a point where they could begin to produce. In spite of the fact that the government has been working hard since 1918 in replacing the destroyed homes there are 300,000 still to be built, Mr. Higgs said, quoting the French ambassador.

Accordingly there has followed the French advance into the Ruhr he said, and according to the French the occupation will be kept up, like the German occupation of France was in 1870 and 1871, until every franc is paid.

Mr. Higgs regretted the attitude of the government here toward Europe. Europe is the United States' debtor and her customer. Instead of saying "Let Europe stew in her own juice," the United States should be anxious that her customer be able to pay.

CLARK WINS FIRST GAME.

bases, a total of ten stolen bases being chalked up.

The first inning was harmless on both sides except for a neat single to center by Cronin. In the second Trinity bats let loose a fusillade which chased Anderson off the mound. Jones singled to right, scoring Ortgies, and took second on the throw-in to the plate. Newsholme walked. Shields laid down a neat sacrifice, and big Joe Tuck ambled to the plate and sent a resounding whack to left-center, on which both Jones and Newsholme scored. Norman and Cronin grounded out, ending the inning.

In the next stanza Clark showed that they were still to be considered in the game. Anderson opened with a poke which Tuck snared with his bare hand. Johnson singled over third. Tierney fouled out to Newsholme. Fowler walked. Pucillo came through with a triple to center on which Johnson and Fowler scored. Price walked but Tuck closed the inning by fanning Fall.

Nothing more happened in the scoring line until the opening half of the sixth. Fall pried off the lid with a single to left. Then he showed himself to be a speed merchant when he stole both second and third. While this was going on Hayden walked and followed Fall around as far as third. Fall came halfway down the base line on a return to the pitcher, and completed a steal of home when Tuck threw to third. This apparently unsettled the big fellow and he allowed Anderson to single over second, scoring Hayden with what proved to be the winning run.

In the last two innings Captain Norman's men made gallant attempts to win. In the sixth, after Jones had struck out Newsholme was hit by a pitched ball. Shields came through with a single to shortstop, but was forced at second by Tuck. Newsholme taking third. Norman tried mightily but went out when his drive over first base found Price waiting to receive it. In the last round, when no spectator could see the ball, Pryor drove one to left and Newman one to right. A double steal advanced, both men, Pellett running for Pryor. Ortgies and Jones did not have as good night eyes as their predecessors, and struck out on fast ball pitching.

FIRST INNING.

Johnson grounded out, Jones to Norman. Tierney flied out to Cronin. Fowler flied out to Ortgies. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING.

Ortgies tripled to center. Jones singled through third, Ortgies scoring. Newsholme walked. Shields sacrificed both along. Tuck doubled, bringing in Jones and Newsholme. Norman grounded out to second. Cronin grounded out to second. Three runs, three hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING.

Tuck made barehand stop of Anderson's grounder and put him out at first. Johnson singled when his grounder took a bad hop. Tierney fouled out to Newsholme. Fowler walked. Pucillo tripled, bringing in two runs. Price walked. Fall struck out. Two runs, two hits, no errors.

Pucillo pitching, Anderson in center field. Pryor singled to left. Newman flied out to second. Ortgies struck out. Pryor stole second. Jones singled and took second on the throw home. Newsholme flied out to catcher. No runs, two hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING.

McGuerrren got first on Jones' error. Hayden drove to Norman who completed a double play unassisted. Anderson grounded, Jones to Norman. No runs, no hits, one error.

Shields got first on third base-man's error. Tuck sacrificed, Shields took second. Norman flied out to second. Cronin grounded out, pitcher to first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

FIFTH INNING.

Johnson flied out to Shields. Tierney struck out. Fowler doubled to left. Pucillo fouled out to Newman. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Pryor struck out. Newman struck out. Ortgies fouled out to catcher. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SIXTH INNING.

Price flied out to Cronin. Fall singled to left. Fall stole second. Fall stole third. McGuerren flied out to Tuck. Hayden walked. Fall stole home. Anderson singled, bringing in Hayden. Johnson grounded out, Jones to Norman. Two runs, two hits, no errors.

Jones struck out. Newsholme walked. Shields singled to left. Tuck got first on fielder's choice. McKniff running for Tuck. Norman grounded out to first. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING.

TRACK PROSPECTS.

The shot put suffers through the ineligibility of Noble. Jepson has been getting thirty-four feet and O'Connor about the same. Dempsey, a Freshman, is out for the event and is progressing rapidly. Brill and Sinnott are working on the hammer throw, which has been a weak event in Trinity teams ever since "Sam" Edsall left college. In the discus O'Connor got a hundred and ten feet his first day out and has not improved upon that mark since. If he can get this distance in meets, the discus should be well in hand. Terrell is out for the throw this year and is getting a hundred feet regularly, which has won most of the dual meets in recent years. Brill is also working on this event.

The only field events are more or less one man affairs. Bradley is the only veteran in the pole vault, with Travers working hard with him. Jepson should give a good account of himself in both the high and broad jumps. Peiker, who developed rapidly in basketball last winter, is out for the high jump, while Herrick, and Montgomery, sprinters, and Tuozzolo are working on the broad jump.

Three Years for a Start

JOHN HANCOCK experience shows that if you sell life insurance for three years you will continue for your entire active business life.

Why? Because you will find it the most pleasant and remunerative business you can choose. What do they mean "Senior Wrangler"?

YOU may not have met one of those dear old boys,—Oxonian stuff, what, what?—but our idea of a senior wrangler is a '23 man trying to work up a lather with the wrong kind of shaving cream.

There's no "wrangling" necessary to get a lather with Williams' Shaving Cream. Squeeze out a spendthrift's dab or a tightwad's dab—it's all the same. Either way you get a big, efficient lather that softens the beard right down to the base of every hair.

And best of all, this big Williams' lather has a decidedly beneficial effect on your skin. No complexion soap could do more for you than Williams' does every time you shave. Get a tube of Williams' today and begin giving your face this helpful care.
